

The “Honored Guest” Experience at Shalom Healing Homes

So comforting, relaxing, confidence-instilling. I knew I had come to the right spot/person.

I did not know what to expect but the entire experience was wonderful and spiritual! Sapphire was great!”

Well, I've known Safira for years and I've learned MANY things from her. The most recent being that it is not how many bible stories or parables you know that establishes your connection with God, but rather your willingness to simply surrender, be still and listen... my friendship with Safira and my observance of her walk with God is teaching me on a daily basis.

I had the great fortune to meet Sapphire this last summer. Her personal growth and ability to manifest has been a great inspiration. It's contagious! I asked her for a session and was completely moved by the experience. The block I had has left me! The power of her ability comes from her loving commitment to healing herself, which then allows others to find their personal power to enter into their own healing.

Thanks so much... I am really in awe.

Your kindness, understanding, empathy & ability to reach out and help, even if by email, has always been so appreciated and helpful to me.

Our students look forward to working with her and always benefit from her insight and life-coaching skills

Never have I seen anyone work so hard with such clarity of purpose toward a succinctly self-defined goal, nor anyone more committed to discovering her liabilities and correcting them, to better herself and to better help others. I highly recommend Ms. King. Her wide, almost contradictory, range of abilities, from the precise scientific/technical to the warmest and most fluid personal interaction, is a rare combination.

Sapphire carries herself in a professional manner in the virtual classroom... and was instrumental in facilitating effective communication in her learning community. Her roles have always been in a helping capacity, showing fellow students and colleagues how to implement and improve skills and encourage and motivate others to achieve their best. I cannot speak highly enough of Sapphire Jule King.

I have seen her develop plans of action for young and old, and always, each come away optimistic and well-directed. If I were recommending that anyone establish a new life plan, I would recommend... working with Sapphire.

There are not many students like you who would spend time helping others, as you do, when they choose to use that time selfishly helping themselves. There are only a handful of them like you...
